FOREWORD

• Light—the one purpose of this book. Only through intellectual enlightenment will man further his development of physical light. As God has given us abundant resources, the mind of man must magnify them. If, when glancing into this book, shadows clear away; if, when scanning through the theme, your thoughts are elevated to the realization of your possibilities for brightening your corner —THE BACKLOG Staff of 1935 shall have attained its purpose.

DEDICATION

● To a scholar, leader, teacher, and friend whose personality is a guiding force, whose ideals are an inspiration, and whose ability has given him the responsibility of carrying on and increasing the status of David Lipscomb College—to President E. H. IJAMS, the most dynamic man in the history of our school, we dedicate this book.

A MAN WE HONOR

PROFESSOR S. P. PITTMAN, who was born in West Tennessee and reared in Florida, came to the Nashville Bible School in 1891. Since his graduation from the school, he has given his entire life as an instructor in many of its departments, except two years spent at the University of Tennessee, where he received his B.A. degree, and several months as a missionary in Japan. So much for history.

Professor Pittman is a man that is loved by more people of all denominations, classes, and colors than any other man in the brotherhood. Everywhere one goes, if he has had any connection with David Lipscomb College, he will find that many people will ask him, "Well, how is Brother Pittman?" and then remark, "I know he's the best man in the world."

Brother Pittman, as he is more often called by all who know him, is a man of great ability. Many men of authority have said, "He is undoubtedly a genius." He is a musician, composer, poet, preacher, teacher, and orator.

Every time he stands in the pulpit we get new thoughts. "What a great statesman he might have been," we think when he speaks on Robert E. Lee.

His great admiration for modesty and love for his fellow man have caused him many times to stay in the background and allow someone else to get the honor. God give us more men of such magnanimous character!

This present class had the honor of being the first to have him speak on its class program. He spoke on "The Value of Silence." He said, "There is something peculiar about this meeting. It is the first time I've ever been asked to speak to a senior class, and you ask me to speak on Silence."

We dearly appreciate Brother S. P. Pittman and the life that he has lived.

In Memoriam

OUR OWN BELOV'D BARBARA HARRIS

What flower in yonder garden
Blossoms half so sweetly as thee?
What daisy on yonder hillside
Could open so full and so free?
What flower is half so fragrant
Or rosebud that's covered with dew?
What life is more enchanting than
The one that is tried and found true?

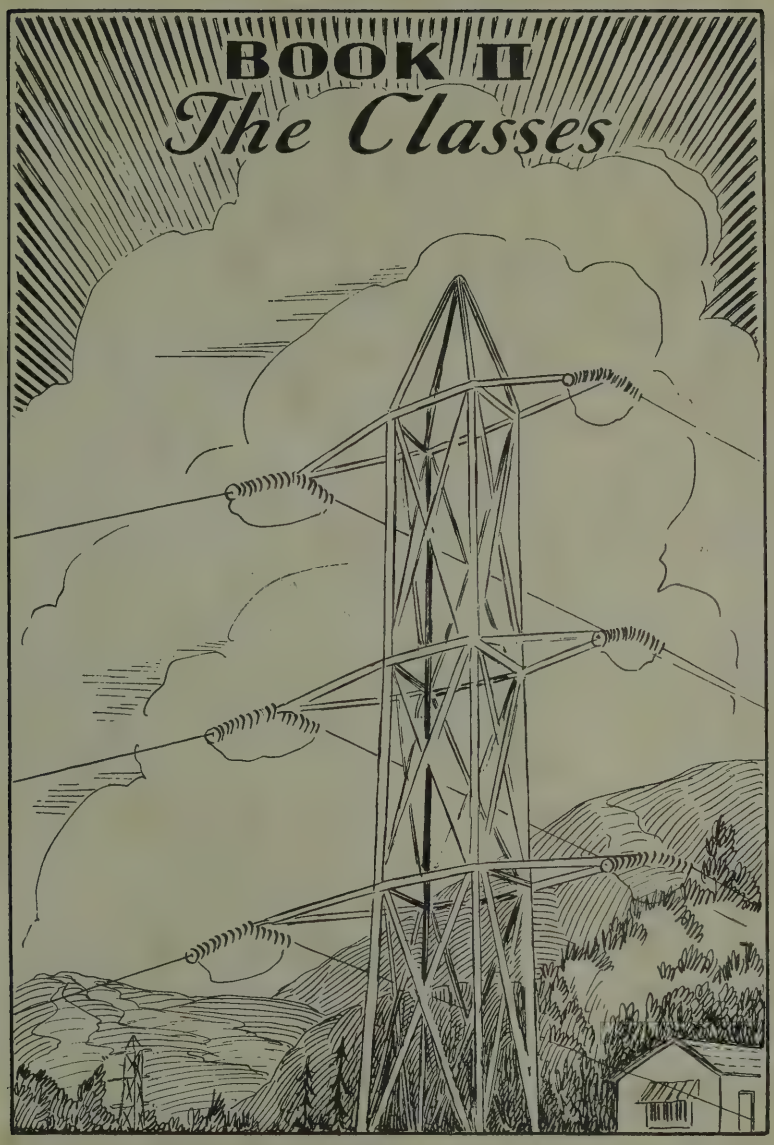

God gave us thy life in beauty
And fashioned it by love divine;
He made thee a glorious maiden
But God had limited thy time.
Thou dost know that we have miss'd thee
Ever since thou hast been asleep;
Thou know'st the day that brought sadness,
The hour in which strong men did weep.

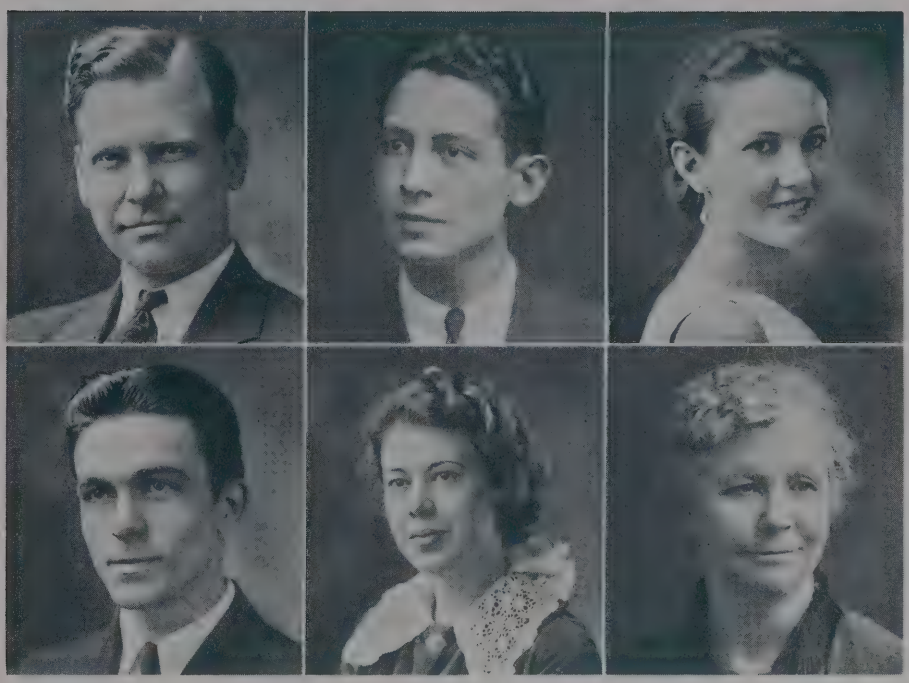

A monument we've not builded;
In thy life thou did'st it create.
Thy deeds, thy acts, were thy glory;
To our friends we will these relate.
Memories of thee will linger, 'til
We're called to the land that's fairest;
And dwell forevermore with thee,
Our own belov'd Barbara Harris.

HISTORY OF SENIOR CLASS

IN THE YEAR 1933, one hundred and twenty-five young men and women filled the ranks known as the Junior Class of David Lipscomb College. This class became recognized for its ability to work as a unit.

Jack Ezell, elected class president, served most efficiently. The Junior-Senior banquet is not to be forgotten. The erection of a tower in which to swing the traditional tainted old school bell was selected as the class project and plans began to develop.

The year 1934-'35 saw Richard Maxwell at the helm. It saw a class of ninety seniors complete the most satisfactory year in the school's history. It saw the development and completion of the Brewer Tower, which was dedicated to the alumni of our Alma Mater. It saw the greatest BACKLOG with its name upon the title page.

It may be truly said that the Senior Class of 1934-'35 has erected a standard of student activities at David Lipscomb that challenges their successors to attain as high a goal and loyalty to David Lipscomb College.

Written words are needless. The history of their class towers over the campus, makes brilliant libraries, and speaks out loud from the lips of those who constituted it. This class chose to make history—may others do the same.

C. E. W. DORRIS PRESSROOM

THE DORRIS PRESSROOM, home of "The Babbler," was made possible by C. E. W. Dorris, friend of the college, who donated the job press seen in the picture. A cross section of Babbler staff life may be drawn from this photo. Mr. Parks, staff advisor, supervises; Malcolm Garrett operates the press; E. B. Woodroof manages the shop; Howard Burch is engaged in setting type; and the editor, Ruth Morris, corrects assignments. This group is due our praise for their splendid work in Lipscomb's pressroom.

"Birds of a feather flock together." Running true to the old adage, the Nashville students at Lipscomb "flock together" in a social body and enjoy as a group the pleasures of campus and Nashville scenic surroundings.

MDCCCCXXXV DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE VOL. I

OUR CLUB HISTORY

The International Relations Club at David Lipscomb College was organized in January, 1935. It was not organized merely as a means to "get together." Our desire was not to have a large number of members, but a few who understood the real importance of such a study. We cannot but be pleased with the whole-hearted effort each has made to make the club a success.

Since we organized with a dozen members, our ranks have been strengthened. We are very grateful for those and hope that others may join hands with us. Before we admit a new member, we ask the candidate one question—"Are you willing to work?"

We are not standing alone as a club, but are a part of a very large unit. There are similar clubs over the entire United States and even in a large number of foreign countries.

OUR OFFICERS

PRES. GUY TOSH

V-PRES. L. L. SNEED

FACULTY ADVISOR - NORMAN L. PARKS

IN APPRECIATION

We are very grateful to the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace for the interest taken in us. Every courtesy has been shown us since we sent in our application for enrollment.

We have received some very valuable material in the books that were sent. Such books as Arms and Ammitions, by Joseph H. Bacchus, and The European War Debts and Their Settlements, by Wildon Lloyd, touch some very vital problems that concern each of us as American citizens.

The books that are to be sent semi-annually will be added to our present list. At some future date, the club can look with pride on a huge library of very valuable material.

We, also, frequently receive interesting pamphlets and fortnightly reports on international affairs. These are, likewise, appreciated very much.

SEC. ANNE WEBB

Norman L. Parks came to David Lipscomb College in 1920, from the schools of Lake County, Tennessee. With him he brought a love for history. In 1922, he graduated from Lipscomb in "my first long trousers." The members of the club express to him a sincere appreciation for his interest

When history courses are out of place, and all good teachers have gone to rest,

When rewards are given to history teachers, Parks will be among the best.

SGT.-ARMS JIM COPE

OUR WILL

There's nothing more pleasant than "will-ing" when you have something to will. We have it, so here goes:—Cope leaves for next year's program a real speech, "Russia and her Neighbors," provided he can find it. Maxwell has nothing to will—he needs his dignity. Ila Arms leaves "that something." Anne Webb leaves unfinished work. Wright leaves abundant energy. Sneed apologizes for his "ever-presence" at meetings. Spain leaves "zealous youth." Coop left nothing; instead he took. Tosh leaves an essay, "Silence is Golden." Tucker leaves a lengthy space that cannot be filled. Peek still has the brains of the club. Edith Caudill leaves her term paper on the Versailles Treaty—if it's ever finished. Miller gives to all a smile and a happy mood. Ruth Rutledge wills to us that high I. Q. Elizabeth Swallows and Gladys Stonestreet leave their ability to "play well." Mary E. Evans leaves her ability to "put it over." Verna Collins wills 20 lbs. of "excesive weight." Andrews declares he'll "be back next year." Mr. Parks leaves his patience for succeeding years.

OUR BOOKS

Someone has said that "a book should not be read until it is twenty years old." We do not believe such a statement to be true. As youthful citizens of the United States, we owe it to our country and to ourselves to become helpful adult citizens. We cannot face the problems of tomorrow unless we acquaint ourselves with the conditions of today and their underlying causes. We do not know a better way to do so than by delving into the books on our shelves. They are all modern and written by men who know. We suggest that you "take a peep into our books."

OUR HOPE

The average American citizen has been ignorant of the relations of his country with other countries. All matters of government have been left to the decision of the governmental heads. The time has come when a person can no longer be educated and remain ignorant of present world conditions. It is our sincere hope that succeeding years may find Lipscomb zealous in a study of these problems.

WORKERS' CLUB

DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE has always been known to give its students every advantage possible. This picture represents the large number of students who have part-time work. It is an advantage to both the college and the young men and women for such ideals and principles to be carried out. A sense of responsibility is instilled in the participants, and the college campus, athletic field, library, dining hall, and office have benefited by the self-help of the students. Mr. E. B. Woodroof is in charge of the Workers' Club.

DRAMATIC CAST

RADIO CAST

ORCHESTRA

THE D. L. C. ORCHESTRA'S accomplishments for this season have been very remarkable. It is composed of twenty-five members. These musicians have enlarged the D. L. C. students' appreciation for good music. It is outstanding in its choice of compositions; choosing not the baser jazz type, but procuring from a high plain their beautiful melodies.

The winter concert given by the orchestra was acknowledged as a great piece of work. Its appearance on the Lipscomb Hour over Radio Station WLAC brought acclamations from many as being one of the best programs of the year. The music was liked so well by the director of WSM that he invited the orchestra to appear on that station.

The orchestra is very capably directed by Mr. Howard G. Stubblefield, a musician of great ability.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

THE EVENING OF FEBRUARY 14, 1935, marked another memorable event for Lipscomb College students. It was at this time that the Junior Class entertained the Senior Class with their annual banquet. After the invocation by Paul Edwards, Robert Porter gave the junior toast which was accepted by Richard Maxwell, Senior Class president. Willard Collins gave the welcome address, followed by a response by the Senior Class president. A. Clay Pullias delivered the address of the evening. Following the address, Miss Peggy Terry entertained with a humorous reading and L. T. Holland, Fred Wilson, and the faculty quartet entertained with several musical selections.

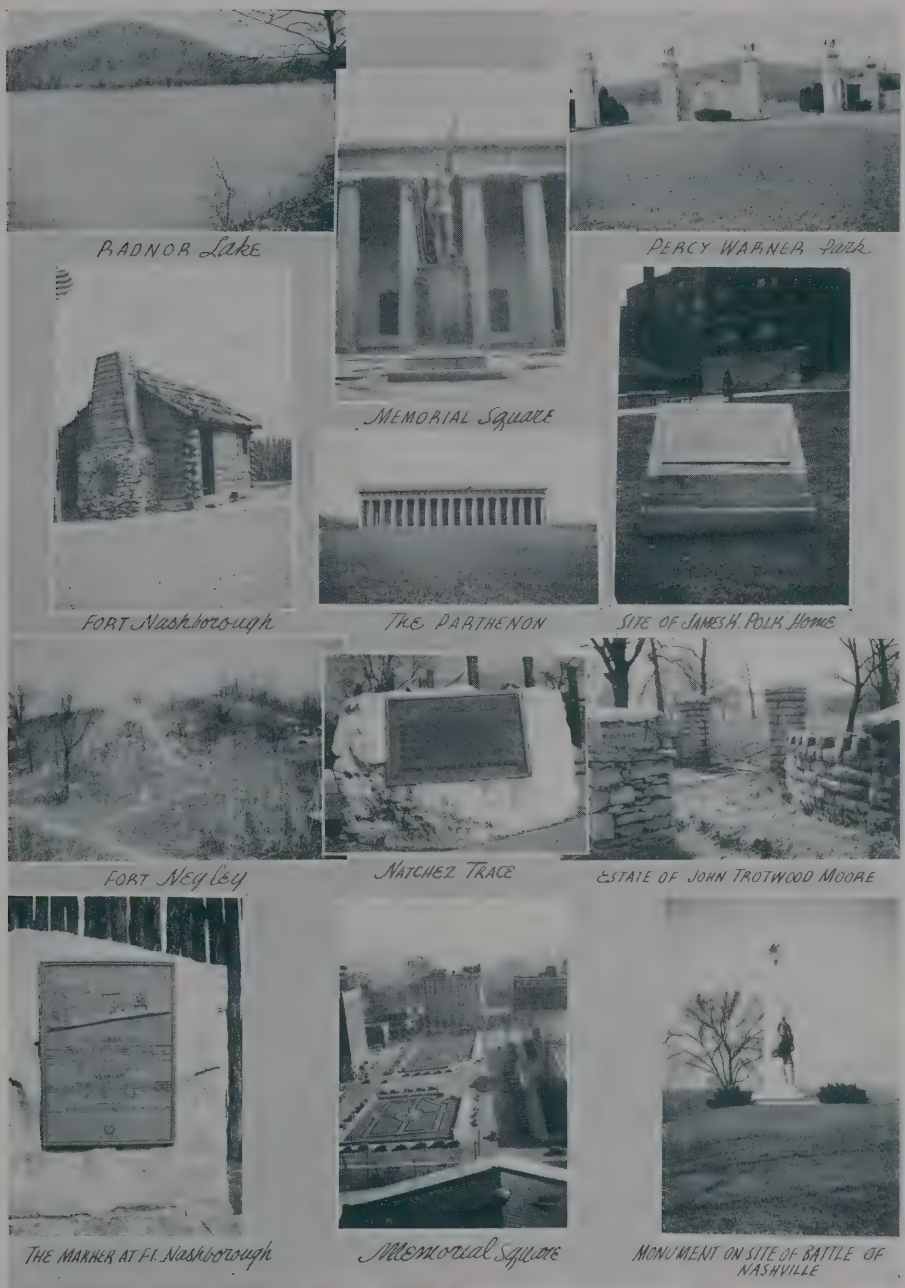

The most delightful feature of the evening was a candle-lighting ceremony led by President E. H. Ijams and Professor Charles Brewer. This ceremony, symbolic of the ideals and principles for which D. L. C. stands, was made impressive by the passing of light from the large white candle of D. L. C. to the seniors' white candles. Then from the white candles of the seniors the juniors' red ones were lighted, with the challenge to carry on the bright, shining, Christian influence of Lipscomb College.

1891 DAVID LIPSCOMB COLLEGE 1935

FILLS A REAL EDUCATIONAL NEED

David Lipscomb College will begin its 44th session September 18. The next session will open with the largest faculty and the richest curriculum in the history of this institution. For this continual growth there is adequate reason.

David Lipscomb College fills a real educational need.

STARTS THE STUDENT RIGHT

One of the greatest needs in higher education is the right start. The bulk of college failures come during the first year. Frequently students fail to find in institutions of higher learning the understanding and guidance they need.

David Lipscomb College seeks to start every student right and help him succeed in the best sense. The importance of the right start is incalculable.

STRIVES FOR STRONG PERSONALITY

Another educational need is balanced development. David Lipscomb College seeks to make the most of the mental, moral and spiritual possibilities in every student. Every one receives daily instruction in the world's greatest moral and spiritual volume—the Bible. Every teacher is a counselor, as well as instructor. This makes for soundness of character and strength of personality.

WHERE THE SPIRIT OF THE WEST OFFERS
NEW OPPORTUNITY

JOIN YOUR SCHOOLMATES

EACH Year an increasingly large number of the graduates of David Lipscomb College enter Abilene Christian College.

They come to us for various reasons, but chiefly because they find that which meets their needs . . . opportunity to grow mentally, morally, socially, physically, and spiritually. Abilene Christian College provides the balanced education.
